

We have found a supplier for our T shirts. Hopefully some of you noticed us wearing them at one of our events.

For the sake of simplicity, our "official" T shirt design will be a small club logo on the left breast of the shirt and a large logo with our URL below it on the back of the shirt. The option of having your name printed under the logo on the front of the shirt is a no cost option so if you would like yours on there just let us know.

Some good news for those who would rather have something besides the logo on the back of their shirt.... the shirt folks will print the design of your choice on any shirt, hoodie, sweatshirt etc. for no additional charge (see below).

Certain requirements will need to be met before a custom shirt is printed.

All shirts ordered through the club will have the club logo on the left breast of the shirt. Any design on the back must include the URL of the club.

If you submit a photo as part of your design, the photo must have been taken by you or you will need to provide a release from the original photographer allowing you to use the photo. I know, this is a pain but neither we nor the shirt people want to have any legal problems associated with the use of someone else's image.

Images for use on a shirt will be reviewed by the board to make sure that they reflect favorably on the club and that the subject is related to the hobby of marine aquarium keeping. This is no big deal and will take no time.

Prices for shirts can change depending on the design you wish to use. If the shirt requires a substantially greater quantity of ink than the "official" design, the price will most likely be $2.00 to $3.00 higher. The shirt folks will let us know the price before they print it so there will be no surprises.

Shirt color is for the most part immaterial EXCEPT for the colors of black and deep blue. There is a minimum order of 18 shirts for these two colors. If you wish to have a shirt of these colors expect to pay at least twice as much. The printers tell us that those two colors require a very large amount of ink in order for the colors to show up properly. They suggest that you stay away from those two colors but are more than happy to print a shirt for you if you are willing to go the extra expense and order a minimum of 18 shirts.

If you wish to have a custom shirt made you will need to provide a high resolution image. The image may be submitted in either .bmp or .jpg format. We caution you not to use anything other than a high resolution image as pixilation is a very real possibility when using a lower resolution image. Once the shirt is printed it's yours and we don't want you to be dissatisfied with your purchase or experience.
